A note from the President

When I agreed to take the gavel and lead this fine club for a time, I had no idea of the places it would take me. I never could have imagined being the President of GARS would give me the honor of meeting Governor Nathan Deal in his office. And what a picture the staff photographer took during the event (above). I think of these folks as some of the movers and shakers of the ham radio community in and around Metro Atlanta. Pictured from left to right we have Karen Prescott KJ4VQI, me, John Davis WB4QDX, Governor Deal, John Tramontanis N4TOL, Bert Bruner KE4FOV, Steven Garrison N4SEG, and Jim Reed N4BFR.

Fantastic company to be sure, the group was comprised of four presidents, an Emergency Coordinator, and two highly motivating amateur radio ambassadors. It was a great honor and Governor Deal proclaiming it as Amateur Radio week was icing on the cake. After Bert received the proclamation, Governor Deal made a statement to the effect that the government really appreciates amateur radio, especially for what we do during disasters. It is really nice to be recognized at the state level and Karen Prescott KJ4VQI deserves the credit for making this event happen. Thanks Karen!

"Steve Garrison N4SEG gives Kyle Albritton W4KDA advice in the rotunda at the the state capitol building."

We lost our meeting place at NAMAR. It is a disappointment, but these things happen. NAMAR is what I would describe as a commercial entity and their interests simply must come before outside groups like GARS. Unfortunately, they were not willing to give us a "second chance" to correct the issue. Although I do not think this reflects favorably upon their management, the truth is it is their place that they worked very hard for, and we were simply guests. We will just say thank you politely and move on as we all ways have.

While disappointed about losing NAMAR, we should be equally elated to be moving to the EAA chapter 690 building. [Ed note: See maps - page 4-5] The EAA (Experimental Aircraft Association) is a wonderful organization dedicated to "The Spirit of Aviation." They host many events. Some of the larger events you may be aware of are the hosting of the B17 Aluminum Overcast, and the Ford Trimotor coming to Lawrenceville. As I understand from word of mouth (my apologies in advance if this fact is incorrect), the local chapter has about 30 hams in it. I have a deep love and fair knowledge of aircraft and I believe that the majority of hams do as well. Folks who restore, repair, and build aircraft are just the kind of innate tinkerers and experimenters that also form what I would call the backbone of the amateur radio community. The EAA has a strong sense of community and does education and outreach programs too. In my eyes we are very like-minded groups. I think we will be a great compliment to each other.

We had a great antenna build in June. We had fifteen attendees and I think we built ten antennas. [Ed. Note; See pictures on Page 7] Afterward we had a couple of fox hunts and right off the bat folks got to use the antennas they built and start an all new learning process. Dale Burns KI4MZO said it was a lot harder than he thought it would be and everyone was really challenged by the 1W fox. It has so much power it tends to overwhelm your radio as you get close and proves difficult to get directionality. This may seem like an unfair test, but if you are hunting a fox, this is something you will have to deal with as you get close. It was a fun time and I am glad GARS hosted it. Thanks to Joel and Ralph for organizing this event and thanks to Lowes of Suwanee for giving us a location to do it and for loaning us some tools.

That brings me to Field Day. [Ed. Note: See pictures - page 6] What can I say other than it was fantastic, awesome, excellent, fun, and great? Ten thousand thanks goes out to David Adcock KA4KKF for organizing this event for GARS again. He does a fabulous job with Field Day and we owe our success in large part to him. I think it is outstanding how fast we get things organized, up, and functioning. All eight stations were buzzing this year with the bands being open for almost all of the event. We had a large group of operators that kept all stations solidly on the air for all twenty four hours. Last year at midnight I counted 22 people on site. This year, we had Earl's ice cream at midnight and we had 24 operators there for that. Funny story on that, Earl had stored the ice cream in dry ice. At midnight, when it was time to serve it, the ice cream was solid. I mean, it was so hard I think you could have smashed diamonds with those blocks of ice cream. Eventually, the ice cream surrendered to our ham-genuity and was served, but it sure was funny at the time. Of course then, mature men, adults, began to "experiment" with the remaining dry ice. If it sounded like I rolled my eyes just then, it is because I did, but I will also admit to watching the dry ice fun with childish enjoyment. These are the kinds of stories that I think make Field Day what it is. If my bleary memory serves me correctly, we left the site, cleaner than we found it, eight stations, generators, antennas, and all at 2:38PM. That is impressive when you consider the size of our event. Great job all, I loved it. I think everyone who came did.

Ice Cream at midnight. HARDER than ROCK! What do we do now?

June was a blast, but I am also happy we have less scheduled for July. I think we all need a month off. August is just around the corner and providing logistics for the dog show is what helps us pay for events like Field Day, our repeaters, and other fun and educational events. Please keep the dog show on your calendar to help support the club.

Wishing you good health, good wealth, and good hamming,

Kyle W4KDA

BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA

A PROCLAMATION AMATEUR RADIO APPRECIATION WEEK

WHEREAS: The Atlanta Radio Club was formed 100 years ago on March 25, 1911 to support the emerging hobby of amateur radio in Atlanta and throughout the State of Georgia; and

WHEREAS: Throughout the decades, Atlanta's amateur radio operators have donated countless hours of community services; demonstrating their value during times of disasters, aiding with radio communications for public events, emergency communication, and serving as weather spotters in the U.S. Weather Bureau's Skywarn program. Recently, the Atlanta Radio Club donated a digital radio to the National Weather Service (NWS) and has facilitated the linking of weather spotters with the NWS during times of severe weather, thereby providing a vital communications pathway to north Georgia; and

WHEREAS: The Atlanta amateur radio community has provided communications to many emergency response organizations including the American Red Cross and county agencies during the aftermath of ice storms, tornadoes, and other tragedies in the state; and

WHEREAS: The amateur radio clubs throughout Georgia and America will hold Field Day on June 25-26, 2011 where enthusiasts will participate in on-air demonstrations, digital communications, emergency preparedness, and other activities to raise public awareness of amateur radio; now

THEREFORE: I, NATHAN DEAL, Governor of the State of Georgia, do hereby proclaim June 19-25, 2011, as AMATEUR RADIO APPRECIATION WEEK in Georgia.

In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the Executive Department to be affixed this 17th day of June in the year of our Lord two thousand eleven.

Nathan Deal

Device Tests PowerPole Outlets

By KB6NU
Daniel M Romanchik

I just found a link to this unique little device and had to blog about it right away. The PowerPole Polarity and Voltage Tester is similar to one of those little devices that you plug into an AC outlet that tells you if the outlet is wired correctly. Except that you plug this device into an unknown PowerPole outlet.

What surprised me is that this little device actually uses a micro-controller to measure the voltage. I guess that I really shouldn't be surprised, though. Microcontrollers come in very small packages now, and programming them is very simple to do .

Because microcontroller are programmable, you could extend the functionality of this device. For example, you could add a small alpha-numeric display or more LEDs to indicate different voltage ranges.

While the circuit is very simple, and is easily fabricated on some perfboard, the author of this Instructables project, has indicated that he intends to make a PC board and kit available. I've e-mailed him about this, and will report on what he has to say about price and availability.

Another thought that occurs to me is that I could make one of these with the Arduino that's been languishing beneath my workbench for the last year or so. Basically, I'd just take the front end circuitry from this project and connect it up to my Arduino. I'd have to do some programming, but I think I can handle that. :)

The GARzette

The GARzette is the official monthly newsletter of the Gwinnett Amateur Radio Society, serving its members and other persons interested in the advancement of the amateur radio art.

Original articles, art, and photos are invited and encouraged. Previously copyrighted submissions cannot be accepted for reprinting unless permission from the appropriate publisher is provided in writing along with the information being submitted. If reprints are from publications allowing their unrestricted use, please include a copy of the printed permission contained in the publication.

If possible bring your articles to the monthly meeting in Microsoft Word or rich text (.rtf) or text or HTML format or by email to n4gyn@arrrl.net. Artwork can be accepted in most any graphics format and can be submitted via email to the same address. Alternate means of submittal can be arranged when necessary.

In keeping with the amateur radio spirit, permission is hereby granted for the reproduction of The GARzette articles by other amateur radio club newsletters provided that proper credit is given to the individual author and The GARzette.

The GARzette is published each month with the assistance of Norm Schklar, who prints and distributes the news letter. Deadline for submissions is the 20th of each month for inclusion in the following month's issue.

Meetings are held on the 2nd Tuesday of each month at 7PM.

JOIN ARRL - OR - RENEW YOUR ARRL MEMBERSHIP THROUGH GARS

Help the GARS Treasury by applying for ARRL membership or renewing your ARRL membership through GARS. By applying for ARRL membership through GARS we are able to keep $15.00 of the normal membership fee for our Treasury. We can keep $2.00 from each renewal.

Show your support for both organizations by applying through GARS.

Ralph Pickwick – KJ4CNC, GARS Treasurer, will have the ARRL applications at the monthly meetings for your use. We only ask that you don't wait till the last minute to renew, as we will only be sending the applications to ARRL on a monthly basis. We will only be accepting personal checks with the applications (no PayPal).

If you have any questions concerning this process, please contact Ralph at KJ4CNC@arrl.net.

GARS Specialist

Top Negotiator

Top Agent

Helping hams with the sale and purchase of their properties takes extra time, effort and dedication. Not every agent is willing to make that commitment. Call me for when you or your friends and family are ready to make a move
